FAQ

What is Hack the North?

Hack the North is Canada's biggest hackathon, where 3,200+ students of different backgrounds and skill levels come together from around the world to experiment and create unique software and hardware projects from scratch. Our goal is to empower individuals and teams to build something incredible in only 36 hours with provided resources, such as workshops, mentors, sponsors, and hardware components.

What is a mentor?

Mentors support hackers during our event — taking on everything from career-related questions, to project architecture discussions, to troubleshooting, and everything in between! As a mentor, you will be signing up for a few shifts throughout the event where you will be available to answer mentorship requests from hackers and generally mingle with attendees. If you have some technical skills, a flexible schedule, and a passion for helping out, then we'd love to have you!

How do I apply?
